Hybrid Daylilies

Hemerocallis

The new hybrid daylily is a hardy, sturdy and adaptable plant which will flourish year after year in almost any soil or garden situation. It is the ideal perennial for the busy home owner who finds little time to putter in his garden. Once planted the daylily will thrive and increase year after year with a minimum of attention; and will reward its owner with myriads of bright blossoms over several weeks in midsummer when most flowers are gone. Grow a few of these friendly flowers and you will wonder why you ever bothered with annuals or finicky bulbs for summer color around your home. We send complete cultural directions with every order.

Pink - Rose and Lavender Shades

Midseason (June and July)

BALLERINA (Sax.). Ruffled light salmon pink bells. 40".	$3.00
Bertrand Farr (St.). Early rosy-peach, flushed pink. Large. 36".	2.25

PINK CHARM (Nes.). An all-time favorite with experts. Light ochre-red giving a very 'pink' effect in late August. 40".	1.25
Rosalind (St.). Bright rich rose stars. Fine color. 36".	1.75
ROSE GEM . Late shining old rose. Large, excellent branching. Definitely the best of Dr. Stout's rose-pinks. Try it. 48".	2.25
SWEETBRIAR (Nes.). Large light salmon pink. Dependable. 40".	1.25

Our Recommendations

With so many varieties to choose from, newcomers to daylily growing often write for our suggestions. For your guidance we have printed the names of our favorites in capital letters. These are reliable sturdy growers in fine colors which always receive praise in our garden. If in doubt, try them.

Bicolors and Bitones (Petals One Shade - Sepals Another)

Early Midseason (June and early July)

CABALLERO (Stout). Our favorite bicolor. Rose-pink petals and canary sepals. Don't miss this one. 38".	$1.25
Cornell (Whe.). Deep crimson-red petals; sepals yellow, flushed red. Striking contrast. Recurved, frilled. 42".	$4.00
Demi-Tasse (Whe.). Dainty dwarf garnet red and gold. 16".	$1.50
Florida (Hay.). Pastel bicolor in cream and ochre-red. 32".	$1.00

Mamie Lake (Rus.) New and striking 6" flower with wide maroon-red petals and gold sepals. Evergreen. 32".	$1.75
Mary Guenther (Rus.). Showy garnet and yellow bicolor. 36".	$1.00
SARATOGA (Sax.). Large 6" waxy blooms; wide bronze-gold ruffled petals, recurved deep buff sepals. 38". New.	$4.00
SYMPHONY (St.). Pastel bitone; sepals yellow, petals light rose with red midband. Fragrant. Good evenings. 44".	$1.50
Zebra (Sax.). Large brick-red and orange stars. 38".	$1.00

Late Midseason (Late July and August)

ATHLONE (Rus.). Lovely bicolor with rosy-cinnamon petals; buff sepals brushed rose. Many ruffled satiny flowers. 38".	$2.00
BILLIE BURKE (Whe.). Lavender-rose petals, canary sepals. Evening bloomer. A favorite of ours. Try it. 42".	$3.00
Edith Russell (Rus.). A 'reverse' bicolor. Petals light gold, sepals flushed red. Most unusual effect. 36".	$1.75
Elizabeth Wheeler (Whe.). Rose and yellow bells. 38".	$2.00
Festival (St.). 5" stars of English red and orange. Vigorous, fragrant, good evenings and very gay in effect. 42".	$1.50
GLORY OF TEXAS (Rus.). Large, dusty-purple and yellow. 36".	$1.50
Martie Everest (McD.). Large light red and yellow stars. 40".	$1.50
Midwest Cavalier (Sass). Stately 6" bronze yellow. 45".	$1.25
Su-Lin (Nes). Soft orchid-pink petals, yellow sepals. 45".	$3.00

CLUMPS FOR QUICK DISPLAY

Customers often ask if we will sell clumps for immediate results. In the more abundant varieties we have two and three year clumps of 3 to 5 divisions. We will send these on special order at a rate of 2½ times the price of a single plant. Thus a $1.00 daylily would cost $2.50 per clump. Send list for confirmation.
